About the JuST Conference

Shared Hope International's Juvenile Sex Trafficking (JuST) Conference is an unforgettable and inspiring conference featuring today's most pressing issues in the anti-trafficking field. This year, we anticipate more than 1,000 participants will join us October 22-24 at the Arizona Grand Resort in Phoenix, AZ. Our multi-disciplinary attendees are leaders in their communities including law enforcement officers, prosecutors, service providers, judges, victim advocates, law makers, social workers, health care providers, community members, survivors, and more.

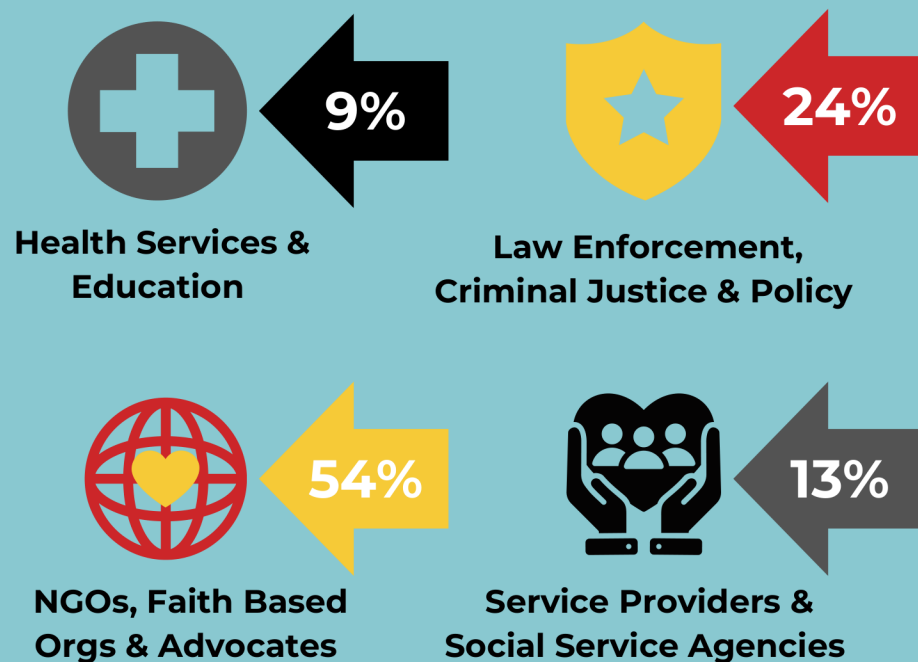

As we rotate the JuST Conference's location each year, we look forward to learning new and evolving practices from each region, engaging with local leaders on what they are encountering in their communities. We are excited to unite our national audience in the Southwest to provide new opportunities for networking and collaboration and we hope that with your support we can make this year's event the most enriching yet.

We will save you a seat at the table, where we will discuss Prevention, Restoration, and Justice Initiatives for the fight to end sex trafficking of children and youth in the United States. Can we count you in?

What do participants say about JuST?

"Such an amazing experience and conference. I plan to attend every year now. It really helped me connect with other providers, Survivors and it was an honor to present. It strengthened my professional and personal development."

Tammy B., Akron, OH

"It was incredible to be in the same space with 100 survivors and a thousand people working to end trafficking. It was a firehose of information, I made connections with others, and I feel inspired for next steps. Thank you for this opportunity."

Maria A., Phoenix, AZ

"This conference was very educational, impactful and it gave me the opportunity to network with others across the country. I am excited to share the information that I gained with my colleagues."

Ron L., Washington, DC
